How to Use This Guide

The Homeowners Insurance Premium Comparison and Consumer Guide, developed by the Arizona Department of Insurance (ADOI), is designed to help insurance consumers understand and compare the cost of homeowners insurance. The wide range of premiums between insurers demonstrates the savings an average consumer can realize by taking the time to compare rates between several insurance companies.

This publication contains the results of a survey of homeowner insurance companies that were asked to “quote” an average annual premium for homeowners policies (form HO-3 or equivalent) for hypothetical dwellings valued at $100,000, $300,000 and $500,000 located in Phoenix, Mesa, Peoria, Flagstaff and Tucson as follows:

HYPOTHETICAL I: PHOENIX Located at 7th Street and Greenway; Phoenix, Arizona 85022

HYPOTHETICAL II: MESA Located at McDowell and Power Roads; Mesa, Arizona 85215

HYPOTHETICAL III: PEORIA Located at 99th Avenue and Beardsley Road; Peoria, Arizona 85382

HYPOTHETICAL IV: FLAGSTAFF Located at Cherry Avenue and Verde Street; Flagstaff, Arizona 86001

HYPOTHETICAL V: TUCSON Located at Ina and Oracle Roads; Tucson, Arizona 85704

Insurers are listed in the Premium Comparison tables based on the lowest to highest Phoenix masonry dwelling premium. All premiums contained in this publication were provided by the listed insurers using rates in effect as of March 1, 2011. All premiums were based on 12 months of coverage.

To use the Premium Comparison in this Guide, select the hypothetical dwelling and coverage limits that align most closely with your needs and look under the city nearest yours to find rates similar to what you might pay. Since these quotes are based on a hypothetical applicant, they are not indicative of what your actual premium will be with any particular company. You will need to obtain quotes prepared specifically for you to get that information, but this will give you a baseline.

While price is always a consideration, consumers should also consider the insurer’s service and the type of insurance contract and coverage available. The ADOI recommends that consumers consult their professional insurance representatives for advice concerning coverage and other purchasing considerations.

If you have questions or comments regarding this publication or any other insurance matter, please call the Consumers Affairs Division at (602) 364-2499 in Phoenix, or (800) 325-2548 outside Phoenix, or write us. In addition, our web site at www.azinsurance.gov contains this and other consumer-oriented insurance publications that may be of further assistance.

Understanding Homeowners Insurance

BASIC HOMEOWNERS INSURANCE COVERAGES

Homeowners insurance combines more than one type of coverage into one policy. Usually, four types of coverage are contained in the policy: (1) Dwelling and Personal Property; (2) Liability; (3) Medical Payments; and, (4) Additional Living Expenses.

(1) Dwelling and Personal Property Coverage

Dwelling coverage helps pay for any structural damage to your home. Other structures such as a detached garage, a storage shed or any other building on your property are usually covered for 10% of the coverage on your house.

Personal property coverage pays for your contents including household furniture, clothing and other personal belongings. The amount of insurance is usually 75% of the policy limit on your dwelling. Your policy also provides more limited coverage for personal property, commonly 10%, if it is stolen or damaged while you are away from home, including when you are on vacation.

(2) Personal Liability Coverage

Homeowners insurance provides personal liability coverage that applies to non-automobile accidents on and off your property if the injury or damage is caused by you, a family member, or your pet. The liability coverage in your policy pays both for the cost of defending you and paying for any damages a court rules you must pay. Unlike other coverage in a homeowners policy, the liability coverage does not have a deductible that must be met before the insurer pays. The basic limit is usually $100,000 for each occurrence, but you may request higher limits, which are normally available for an additional cost.

(3) Medical Payments Coverage

Medical payments coverage pays if someone outside your household is injured at your home regardless of fault and pays for reasonable medical expenses. In limited circumstances, Medical Payments may pay if you are involved in the injury of another person away from your home.

(4) Additional Living Expenses

If you must temporarily move into a motel or apartment due to a loss covered by your policy, the insurance company will pay reasonable and necessary additional living expenses, generally for up to 12 months. The typical policy pays up to 20% of the policy limit on your dwelling for expenses that exceed your normal daily living expenses.

ADDITIONAL COVERAGE

Homeowners insurance generally provides the following additional coverage:

- Debris Removal. The policy usually covers a fixed amount toward the cost of having debris that is left as a result of the loss removed from the premises.
- Trees, Plants and Shrubs. Trees, plants and shrubs around the house are usually covered for 5% of the insurance on the house, up to $500 per item against theft, fire, lightning, explosion, vandalism, riot, and even falling aircraft. Windstorm damage to trees, plants and shrubs is normally not covered.

Ask your agent about the following additional benefits offered by some insurers for extra premium:

- Credit Card Coverage. Many policies pay up to $500 to cover unauthorized credit card use.
- Identity Theft. Some insurers offer coverage for expenses arising from the misuse of your identity.
- Mold. Some insurers offer limited coverage of losses related to mold.

COMMON EXCLUSIONS AND LIMITATIONS

Most homeowners policies do not cover:

- Loss to animals, birds, fish or automobiles.
- Damage caused by flood, surface water, overflow of a body of water, or spray from any of these.
- Water damage due to backed-up sewers or drains.
- War, nuclear hazard, neglect, earth movement or power failure damage.
- Property used for any business purposes.
- Mold, fungi, wet rot and dry rot.
- Damage caused by continuous or repeated seepage or leakage of water or steam over a period of time.

Most homeowners policies limit coverage for certain types of personal property such as:

- Cash, securities, jewelry, furs, and stamp and coin collections because they are especially susceptible to loss.
- Fire arms
- Computers
- Antiques or art objects

HOMEOWNER INSURANCE POLICIES

Several types of homeowners insurance policies, which vary according to coverage and type of dwelling insured, are available from insurers in Arizona.

The basic policy covers fire or lightning, windstorm or hail, theft, explosion, smoke, damage from vehicles and aircraft, glass breakage, removal of property endangered by peril, vandalism and malicious mischief, and riot or civil commotion.

The broad policy covers all the perils covered by the basic plus: building collapse; freezing or accidental discharge of water, or steam from within plumbing, heating, or air conditioning systems and domestic appliances; falling objects; weight of ice, snow, or sleet; and rupture or bursting of steam or hot water heating systems.

The special policy covers dwellings for “all risks” except certain specified perils, such as earthquake and flood, and coverage for damage to personal property caused by any of the perils covered by a basic or broad policy. For an additional premium, a special endorsement usually can be added to extend the special policy to provide “all risk” coverage on personal property that is normally limited or excluded from the policy.

The comprehensive policy, not often sold today, has an even shorter list of exclusions. Not all companies offer this form, but may offer a policy similar to it.

OTHER TYPES OF RELATED INSURANCE

Renters or tenant policy. If you are a renter, you do not need protection against damage to the building itself, but do need protection against damage to or theft of your personal property and liability in the event someone is injured on the part of the premises you rent.

Condominium owner policies insure personal property and protect against liability in the event someone is injured in the condominium. Check with your condominium association and your agent before buying a policy to make sure you are adequately covered.

Mobile Homeowners Policy. The mobile homeowners policy is written specifically for mobile homes and includes coverage on the mobile home as well as theft and liability protection. Policies can differ significantly as can the premiums.

Flood Insurance. Homeowners insurance normally excludes flood coverage. However, you may be able to purchase flood insurance through the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) if you live in a designated NFIP community and comply with federal guidelines for flood prevention. A few insurers do offer flood insurance if you are not otherwise eligible for NFIP flood insurance. Your agent can tell you if you are eligible.

You can also contact the NFIP at:

BUYING THE RIGHT AMOUNT OF COVERAGE

Typical Coverage

The amount of personal property and other coverage automatically provided is a fixed percentage of the dwelling coverage amount. For example, under a Broad Policy form, this is how it would normally work:

Type of Property	Insured For	% of Dwelling
Dwelling	$150,000
Detached Garages, Storage Sheds, etc.	$15,000	10%
Unscheduled Personal Property On Premises (Possessions)	$112,500	75%
Unscheduled Personal Property Off Premises	$15,000	10%
Additional Living Expenses	$30,000	20%
Personal Liability	$100,000 per occurrence
Medical Payments	$1,000

Choosing Your Policy Limits

To decide how much coverage you need, consider:

- The value of your home and contents. Prepare a list of your possessions, including values and serial numbers. This will help you decide how much personal property coverage you need.
- Whether you want full coverage or are willing to bear part of the cost of a loss.
- Asking that unusual or high-valued articles, including antiques, art objects, and jewelry, be specifically listed in the policy. You may be able to increase coverage for this property by paying an additional premium. To determine if you already have coverage, check the theft provisions of your policy.
- The value of the assets you wish to protect in determining how much liability coverage you need.

Buying Enough Coverage

Before buying homeowners insurance, consider the difference between “actual cash value” and “replacement cost coverage.” These terms apply to the coverage on your dwelling and your personal property. Most homeowners policies contain replacement cost on the home and actual cash value coverage on personal property. Some companies do sell replacement cost coverage for personal property.

Actual cash value is the value of the property when it is damaged or destroyed. This usually is determined by taking the replacement cost and subtracting depreciation. For example, a chair that initially cost $500 may have a reasonable “life” of 20 years. If it is destroyed after 10 years, its actual cash value probably will be about $250.

Replacement cost is what it would cost to completely replace your house or any part of it. This is different from market value and actual cash value. A home that was built five years ago for $150,000 may have a current market value of $175,000, but have a replacement cost that is higher or lower than the market value. In order to qualify for full replacement cost, the dwelling normally must be insured at 80% to 90% of the replacement cost.

For example, if the replacement cost of your house is $175,000, you should have it insured for at least $140,000 (80%) of its value. Then if part of the home is damaged, you can get that part fully replaced. If you purchase an amount less than 80% of the replacement cost of your home, your insurance company will not be obligated to pay the total cost of loss to your home even if it is a small loss.

Be sure to consider increasing your insurance if you add to your home or personal property.

Inflation Guard. Many policies include an inflation guard provision that automatically increases the amount of dwelling insurance to reduce the possibility of the home being underinsured due to inflation. However, you should periodically check with your insurer to evaluate the current value of your home. Improvements and upgrades will increase the value, and you should promptly inform your insurer of these and other changes.

GET A REGULAR CHECK UP

The above descriptions are generalized. It is important that you check your policy to determine the precise terms of your policy. Read through the policy to know your rights and the insurer's obligations. If you do not understand your policy, ask your agent or company to explain it to you.

Read renewal policies! Insurers can change the terms of your homeowners policy at renewal.

Check-up. Request an insurance "check-up" from your agent periodically to evaluate your coverage!

SMART SHOPPING

Different insurance companies charge different rates for the same coverage. Also, not all insurance companies provide the same level of claims service. Therefore, it makes sense to shop around for the best insurance company for your needs.

Insurance companies use one of three methods to sell their products.

- Independent agents represent several companies and can give you several quotes.
- Exclusive agents only sell the products of one insurance company.
- Direct market sales are over the Internet or by mail or telephone.

You can find insurance companies and agents through the phone book, on the Internet and television or you can refer to the list of insurance companies in this premium comparison survey. If you purchase insurance via the Internet, be sure to verify that the company and agent are licensed to do business in Arizona.

It is illegal for unlicensed insurers or agents to sell insurance. Business cards are not proof that an agent is licensed. If you do business with an unlicensed agent or insurer, it might not pay your claims or refund your premiums if you cancel your policy. You can determine if an insurer or agent is licensed by clicking on the following web address: <http://app.az.gov/id/lookup/> or by contacting us. If an unlicensed agent or insurer contacts you, let us know immediately, so that we can investigate.

Customer service is important to most consumers, particularly when they have a claim. You can get a sense of how well an insurer serves its customers from the complaint ratios shown on the far right side of the hypotheticals in this premium comparison survey. This ratio measures how many complaints the insurance department receives relative to the size of the company.

You also want to buy insurance from an insurer that is financially sound. You can check the financial health of an insurance company by using ratings from independent ratings agencies such as Standard and Poor's, A.M. Best and Moody's.

FACTORS INSURERS USE TO EVALUATE AN APPLICATION FOR INSURANCE

The following are some of the factors that insurers consider when determining whether to accept or reject an application and the cost of coverage:

Age of the home. Some insurers charge less to insure a new home than an older one because they have found newer homes are less likely to sustain damage in storms and fires.

Crime and vandalism in an area will affect the cost of insurance.

The building's location affects the price of insurance because some communities have better fire protection than others. Insurance companies divide the state into rating territories. Each city and locality in Arizona is given a numerical fire protection rating classification based on the amount of fire protection in the area. These rating classes depend on such factors as water pressure, access to fire departments, and the training and skills of firefighters. Most large cities in Arizona are in the lowest rated classes. Small towns and rural areas have higher fire protection classes and generally higher prices. Areas without any fire protection receive the highest rating, a 10. An agent who sells homeowners insurance policies can tell you the community's fire protection class.

Construction of the home impacts cost. Whether it is masonry or frame construction, for instance.

Your credit history is also evaluated by the insurer. For more detail, read the Department of Insurance "Guide to Understanding How Insurers Use Credit Information."

Claims history of the property and the applicant are also considered in determining price and insurability.

There are many other factors than an insurance company may use to determine insurability and price. These include:

Wood furnaces or stoves.

Swimming pools, trampolines or a playscape that could cause injuries.

The types of pets that you have.

Operating a business from your home.

NOTE: Insurance company groups that have multiple insurers within their group can choose the insurance company that will provide the quote. Rates vary between insurers.

GETTING PREMIUM QUOTES

Getting premium quotes is a good way to compare different companies' prices. But, first you should decide what coverages and policy limits you need. It is important that you know how much it would cost to rebuild your home. You may want to contact an insurance agent, contractor, or other reconstruction cost estimating service to help you estimate the cost to rebuild your home.

When you get quotes, it is crucial that you ask for the same coverages and limits and give the same information to each agent or company. To give you an accurate quote, the insurance agent or company should ask for a description of your house (such as where it's located, the square footage, when it was built and the type of construction). They might also ask about items that increase your insurance needs, such as owning pets, and expensive possessions. An agent might visit your home to take a photo or ask you for other information (such as the nearest fire department and the general condition of your home). Be sure to get rate quotes and key information in writing.

While getting quotes, you should ask the agent some of the following questions.

- Are the agent and insurance company licensed by my state insurance department? For how long? You can confirm this by using the link above or by calling us.
- How can I find out the claims history of the home before I buy it? This could affect your premium.
- If I submit a claim, how will it affect my premium when I renew the policy?
- How will my credit history affect my premium?
- Should I buy flood insurance or earthquake coverage? (Your homeowners insurance policy doesn't cover either.)
- What types of water damage are not covered? Is mold damage covered?
- Do I need appraisals on any of my belongings?

HOW YOU CAN REDUCE THE COST OF YOUR HOMEOWNERS COVERAGE

Make sure you ask your agent or insurance company if you qualify for any discounts or other ways to reduce your premium. Adjusting your coverage or deductibles and shopping for discounts can save you money:

Increase your deductible. Many insurers will lower your premium if you choose a higher deductible. Since you are actually "self-insuring" or paying for that portion of the loss yourself, you should evaluate whether the premium cost savings is worth the additional deductible you will have to pay prior to your insurance benefits being applied to a loss.

Multiple-policy discounts. Some insurers may reduce your premium if you keep two or more policies with them. If you already have an automobile policy with an insurer that also writes homeowners insurance, ask if the insurer will discount your homeowners coverage.

Security/Safety discounts. Some companies offer to reduce your premium if you install a fire sprinkler system and a burglar alarm that rings into a central station. These systems can be expensive and not every system may qualify for the discount.

Nonsmoker discounts. Some insurers reduce premiums for non-smoking households.

Long-time policyholders. If you have had coverage with the same insurer for several years and have not incurred losses, some insurers will reduce your premiums.

SOME TIPS ON LOSS PREVENTION

Taking steps to prevent losses is just as important as buying insurance to cover them:

- Install smoke and heat detectors near sleeping areas.
- Clear accumulated trash, oily rags and combustible materials.
- Check lamps, lamp cords and light switches for faulty wiring.
- Practice home fire drills, keep matches away from children and make sure smokers do not smoke in bed.
- Install good locks, secure windows, consider a security system and take other precautions to deter burglars.

YOUR RESPONSIBILITIES

A homeowners insurance policy is a legal contract which spells out your rights and responsibilities, and those of the insurance company. You should read your policy and be sure you understand it. If you have questions about your insurance policy, contact your insurance agent or company.

When you buy homeowners insurance, you will receive a policy – not a photocopy. If you don't receive a policy within 30 days, contact the insurance company, not the agent. Keep your insurance policy in a safe place and know the name of your insurer.

Other helpful tips:

- Pay the premium on time. Most insurers do not offer a grace period for homeowners premium payment; the due date is the due date.
- Keep a file of all paperwork you completed online or received in the mail and signed – as well as any other documents related to your insurance, including policy, correspondence, copies of advertisements, premium payment receipts, notes of conversations and any claims submitted.
- Make a household inventory. Inventory everything in each room, including valuable items such as antiques, electronics, jewelry, collectibles and guns. List items including model and serial numbers; take photos or video. You may need appraisals on high value or antique items. Use this free downloadable app to quickly photograph and capture descriptions of your possessions room by room, then store electronically for safekeeping: myHOME Scr.APP.book. For more information visit www.insureuonline.org.

- Keep receipts, warranties and/or manuals with your home inventory for all repairs and new items you buy, for proof if you file a claim.
- Annually review your policy for changes made by the insurer and to evaluate your coverage needs due to significant purchases or remodeling.
- Maintain your home. A homeowners policy is not a maintenance contract; it insures against damage from perils such as fire, wind and hail. It does not pay to repair items that simply wear out. You are responsible for the upkeep of your home; such as repairing your roof when it begins to leak, cleaning your chimney flue, and replacing clothes washer hoses, etc.

WHEN CAN AN INSURER CANCEL YOUR HOMEOWNERS POLICY?

After a policy has been in effect for 60 days, insurers may cancel your policy in the middle of the term if:

- You stop paying premiums,
- Have been convicted of a crime increasing the hazard that is insured,
- Have breached the contract,
- Have acted fraudulently or committed material misrepresentation in getting the policy,
- Have failed to take reasonable steps to eliminate conditions that may increase losses, or
- If there has been a substantial change in the risk.

If an insurer refuses to continue covering you, it must mail to you a written notice of cancellation and state the reason the policy is being canceled.

WHEN CAN AN INSURER NON-RENEW YOUR HOMEOWNERS POLICY?

With one exception, insurers may non-renew your policy at the end of the policy term for any reason. If the renewal is based on a condition of the premises, the insurer must give you 30 days prior notice to remedy the identified condition and another 30 days, upon payment of premium, to cure the defective condition. Insurers are not permitted to label "condition of premise" losses as "loss/claims history" to circumvent these notice requirements.

If an insurer refuses to continue covering you, it must mail to you, at least 30 days in advance, a written notice of non-renewal and state the reason the policy is being non-renewed.

HAVING TROUBLE FINDING INSURANCE?

Insurance companies can not refuse to insure you based on race, color, creed, national origin, or ancestry. They can choose the risks they want to insure based on other factors. If you have tried several companies and cannot find homeowners insurance coverage, call the Arizona Department of Insurance at (602) 364-2499 or (1-800) 325-2548 (outside Phoenix).

EXAMPLE A COVERAGES: Dwelling: $100,000; Other Structures Coverage: $10,000; Contents Coverage: $75,000; Additional Living Expense Coverage: $20,000;
